

Frequently Asked Questions

General

Q: How many projects will be selected?

A: The total number is not yet fixed and depends on the applications received and budgets available. It is the aim to support at least two demonstration projects

Q: Who can participate in the ideas competition?

A: Participation in the ideas competition of IKI Thematic Calls is open to the following organisations¹:

- Non-governmental organisations
- Universities and research institutions
- International intergovernmental organisations and institutions such as development banks
- United Nations organisations and programmes
- Implementing organisations of the Federal Republic of Germany
- Commercial enterprises

Q: What languages can I submit my Expression of Interest?

A: English.

Q: In what languages can I receive support?

A: All support will be offered in English. If you have specific questions in your local language, please reach out to info@coolupprogramme.org and include your project name, contact name, email, country, and phone number and your message will be forwarded to the appropriate partner country contact.

Financing

Q: How much funding can I apply for?

A: The funding is not fixed. It will be evaluated case-by-case. As the intention of the Cool Up demonstration project is to create as much impact as possible with the available resources, there should be a good relation between expected saving potential and funding need.

Technical

Q: Can I implement more than one type of technology in my project?

A: Yes, as long as all technologies are in line with the requirements.

¹ Partner country governments cannot participate in this call for ideas.
